GIRLS GO ON A STRIKE TO GO TO A DANCE.
Cleveland, O., July 26.—Twenty-eight girls employed in the hot rollers, knead-ers and cutters room at the American Chiclet company's plant, driven to desperation by the tantalizing music at a dancing pavilion in a nearby park went out on strike.

May Calvey threw off her apron when the music came floating through the window. "Gee, girls," she said, "if the superintendent don't raise our wages
let's strike and go and dance."

The strikers proceeded to the pavilion.
"I've filled the places of all the girls with four exceptions," the superintendent announced later in the day.

KNOWLES, N. M., WANTS RAILROAD

Effort Being Made To Secure Division Point of Proposed Rock Island & Gulf.

Roswell, N. M., July 26.—Knowles, the inland town northeast of Carlsbad, about 90 miles in Eddy county, close to the Texas line and a short distance from the northern boundary line of the east corner of Chaves county and nearly a bee line south from Texico-Farwell objects to being the "railroad" city of the plains and every effort will be made to secure a railroad, and the chances seem exceedingly bright at the present time.

A committee consisting of William G. Woerner, O. H. Green and W. C. Howard, all citizens of Knowles, met M. J. Healy, president of the Rock Island, Texico-Farwell & Gulf Railway company. It was the purpose of the committee to close up a contract with Mr. Healy calling for the building of the road through Knowles from Texico-Farwell. The committee stated that its town was ready to put up a bonus if it could get the contract for the road. They were anxious to close a deal at once insuring the railroad for Knowles, but Mr. Healy could not sign up with them, for the reason that contracts have not been consummated with the towns and large land owners between Texico-Farwell and Knowles.

The Commercial club of Knowles proposes to give a bonus big enough to secure the first division point south of Texico-Farwell.

GRAHAM CITIZENS IN A QUANDARY

Are Opposed To Division of County—Statehood Bill
Complicates Matters.

Clifton, Ariz., July 26.—The citizens of this section, who have been vigorously pushing along the preliminary work of launching the new county of Greenlee, see a possibility of difficulties ahead.

The people of Graham county, from which Greenlee has been separated by act of legislature, are opposed to county division.

The provision of the statehood bill that states all county officials shall hold over has complicated matters for Greenlee as no provision was made for the election provided for by the county division bill. Governor Sloan ordered a special election to cover this case, and it is now rumored that the people of Graham will take steps to prevent the election.

The constitution of the state is a peculiar one and in case there is anything in the rumored litigation, may cause the people of Greenlee some trouble. County division was provided for prior to the passage of the statehood bill, and the clause in the latter bill, providing for all county officials to continue in office until the state or organization has been completed, leaves no provision for the new county which comes into existence Jan. 1, 1911.

LAKE ARTHUR BOY PECKED BY AN ANGRY BULL.

Summer Normal Opens at Artesia—Reservation Services for Pecos Valley.

Roswell, N. M., July 26.—Ralph Fleming, the little son of James Fleming of Lake Arthur, had a narrow escape from serious injury when he was attacked by a bull, and before help could arrive the boy was severely mauled. Several deep gashes were cut and he was bruised in various parts of the body.

The Eddy county summer normal will be held at Artesia, beginning August 3.

S. O. Higgins, one of the founders of Artesia, was injured at that place when cleaning machinery at the power house of the water plant. He caught his right arm in the machinery and the middle finger was crushed in three places and the third finger cut to the bone on both sides.

Beginning Sunday and continuing for three weeks, a union evangelistic meeting will be held at Artesia, and all of the churches of the entire Pecos valley will take part. A tent of 1200 seating capacity will be located on the vacant lot near the State National bank. Revs. Brown and Curry will take charge of the meetings.

BELL DRIVEN TO DESPERATION, PLANNED DEATH OF WIDAMAN WHILE INSANE

El Pasoan Gets Onto Car, Rides Out and Meets His Victim, Then Shoots.
Was Threatened By Mob
for a Time.

Frank Bell, who killed attorney O. P. Widaman in Los Angeles Saturday, had only just returned to that city from El Paso, where he had been visiting for some time, following his trial in Los Angeles on a perjury charge, in which the jury disagreed.

That the killing was deliberately planned by a man driven to desperation if not insanity, by an attorney who had hounded him on every hand and had helped his wife to get away from him all his property, is the conclusion. Bell has always been erratic, but he had not been considered murderous. The Los Angeles Sunday Examiner, reporting the killing, says:

Within a very short time after she had kissed her husband goodbye yesterday morning Mrs. Widaman was startled by the appearance of an automobile driven at a breakneck speed to the doorway of the ranch house. She was informed of the shooting and leaped into the automobile to hurry to her husband's side. She held his head in her lap during the trip to the city, and was with him when he died.

"I always feared Bell would make good the threats he made more than two years ago that he would kill my husband some time," said Mrs. Widaman, who is staying at her father's home, 111 Kingsley Drive.

"I always feared that Mr. Widaman would be shot by Bell, and I begged him many times to be careful and not to go where he would see Bell."

"It was with a great feeling of relief that I learned he had left the country for a time at least, and I hoped that I would be free from anxiety for a little while. But I became restless during the past few days and I feared something, just what I could not imagine."

Widaman died less than an hour after the shooting, as he was being carried into the California hospital. Bell is in a cell at the county jail, grimacing through the bars of his cell, terrified.

EL PASO KIDDIE SOME HOMESICK

Little "Cap" Greet Has Attack of Disease in Los Angeles.

There is a mighty homesick little El Pasoan in Los Angeles. He is homesick for El Paso, but more so for his mother. He is Cabell Greet, the nine year old son of deputy sheriff W. D. Greet. Mrs. Greet and the boy are spending the summer at Long Beach. Recently the little fellow was taken to Los Angeles for medical treatment and was left in charge of a physician while he was being treated. Nine is a tender age and little "Cap" experienced his first day away from home and mother when he was left in Los Angeles.

It was hard sledding. Nothing took the place of his mother and he wrote all the sorrow of his loneliness into a letter which he sent his mother and which was forwarded to his father here. "I am missable," wrote the little kiddie. "I have been crying all the time and am crying now. Please come," he wrote. The remainder of the pencilled letter was a repetition of these pathetic plaints. It is useless to add that Mrs. Greet lost no time in reaching her boy in Los Angeles and he was the happiest youngster on the Pacific coast when he saw her.

PEDRO LOSES HIS PURSE; WAS IT EMPTY OR NOT?

Pedro Carrillo said that the pocket-book contained $120 but both Pecosdo Vasquez and Cleopas Madrid said that it was empty. Anyway, Pedro's complaint held good, and his friends are now held by the minor court in Juarez on a charge of larceny. Vasquez had the pocketbook in his possession. It was empty. The whole thing was the result of a drunken mixup in a saloon.

M. F. George, clerk at Hotel Sheldon, has gone to Raton, N. M., where he will meet Mrs. George and thence proceed to Denver and Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. George will remain in the north for a five months' vacation.

Mrs. M. David and Misses Mabel and Lois David, all of Houston, come down from Cloudercroft Monday and are stopping at Hotel Angelus before proceeding east.

CEMENT COLUMNS AT FAIR GROUNDS

Colonial Colonnade One of Attractions of Fair Now Being Made.

Work on the fair colonnade will begin at Washington park this week. A total of 100 barrels of "Made in El Paso cement" has been donated by the Southwestern Portland Cement company and the other materials are to be donated or sold at cost by the merchants of El Paso.

The colonnades are to extend along the main driveway of the fair grounds and down the "Santa Fe" trail as far as the Indian village. These colonnades will be composed of columns made of concrete stucco and will be painted pure white, in keeping with the color which the buildings and fences will be painted, forming the "white city" at the fair grounds.

These columns will be interlaced with strands of electric light and the effect at night is expected to be extremely pleasing.

MRS. LEECH'S HAIR TURNING GRAY

Wife of Man Charged With Murder Worrying Over Killing.

Mrs. John Leech, wife of the man charged with the murder of E. Kohlberg, refutes the recently advanced scientific theory that gray hair is not caused by a great shock or extreme worry.

In proof to the contrary she shows her own hair, which she says was coal black at the time the killing occurred. Now it is streaked with gray and she says it has turned that color since the trouble which placed her husband behind the bars on "the most serious charge which can be brought against a man—murder in the first degree."

She visits him each day at the county jail and seems much more worried over the trouble than her husband.

C. N. Bassett, accompanied the remains of D. N. Washburn, who died recently, to the deceased business man's former home in Clinton, Ind.
